Company history/background

We started developing it in October 2016. In 2019, after launching it, we made a number of technical adjustments and improvements, adapting to what users were looking for and requesting. We're currently short on capital, and I wouldn't want the platform to die after all the effort it took to develop and adapt it.

I'm selling the Dear Coach platform, developed entirely from scratch using Angular and Laravel. It's a marketplace connecting people seeking psychological/therapeutic support, professional consulting, or coaching
