Company history/background

I am selling the website HostNews.es, a blog or website with content about travel, hotels, hospitality and miscellaneous.

It's a "drop domain" that I acquired with very good metrics, but I don't have time to manage it.

As you work on your content, you can monetize it through direct advertising, Google Ads, affiliate marketing, and more. We can put you in touch with writers who create posts of around 400 words for about €2 (or less). We can also help you launch your monetization strategy (creating profiles on content websites, setting up ads, affiliate marketing, etc.).

It's a great opportunity to generate income from home. As we mentioned earlier, you can hire writers for around €2 per post, so with a monthly investment of about €60, you can start producing quality content.
