Company history/background

Industrial company with 28 years of experience in the generator set market, carrying out the activities of manufacturing, repair, assembly, maintenance and sales.

It is being put up for sale due to the retirement of one of its partners.

It would be advisable for the company to remain active, retaining all current staff and the partner who is not retiring, so that with their market experience and an injection of liquidity, the company can once again become a market leader.

Great opportunity due to its expansion and different lines of business.
