Other

It is ideal as a self-employment business, either as a family self-employment business, the business provides work and needs 3 people to function, or as self-employment for the owner with external help from 2 employees.

As a pure investment, it's not a bad business, but the return on investment, if the business is run by three employees, is only around 10%. Keep in mind that the monthly labor cost is €6800; do your own calculations.
