Unique selling points

A solid business growth system has been developed based on the creation of authorized dealers with territorial exclusivity ( Franchises and Master Franchises ).

We have had up to 19 franchised companies of our brand, currently we have six, through which the marketing and execution of our construction systems is channeled.

Other

Due to a lack of succession planning, we've decided to sell our company at a good point in its long history. We'd like to entrust it to someone who loves and cares for it as much as we do, and as our company deserves. There's a tremendous amount of work behind its history.

We are confident that it will bring great satisfaction to whoever is able to take the reins and continue to enhance this company, which is moving forward with a sure step thanks to the engine of its prestige and its continuous commitment to the human capital it has.
