Company history/background

A Spanish company founded in 1997 with German technology.

The company is engaged in making anchor wedges, extruding anchors, etc. for pre-stressed concrete and posttensioning construction systems.

Since its founding, this family company has adapted to the needs of its national and international clients, both as a team and technical staff, offering personalized service and guaranteed quality. The company manufactures its products according to defined processes. Individual working operations are completed with crack-proof-hardened steel on special machines.

Unique selling points

Other

The company is for sale since the owners will retire in about 3 years.
