Sale of an automatic publisher software company based in a major town in Granada.

We are seeking an Investment Partner to establish a company dedicated to the implementation and development of software systems for optimizing and controlling product sales on general e-commerce platforms. The company will develop two fundamental solution lines for its clients, utilizing the software's functionality. The goal is to achieve maximum efficiency in the management and sale of the products and services offered by its clients, while continuously striving to improve the software's development and learning capabilities. Clients will value the services offered for their ease in opening new sales channels in the online market. Furthermore, no prior IT or management knowledge is required to access the e-commerce market competitively and profitably.

Customers will be assured of having online sales channels from more than 7 e-commerce platforms and more than 10 countries, which means more than 70 online stores from which to position, advertise and sell their products, without the need for a costly investment.

RRP €36,000 (Sale of 30% of a company to be formed)
